FRANKFORT, KY., AUGUST 1, 1885.

Number 46.

Prof. Geo. B. Kemp, the youngest Mesmerist traveling, will give an entertainment at the Court House Monday evening, August 3d in mesmerism.

The disease of which a number of cattle died near Stamping Ground, which was thought to be pleuro-pneumonia, has been pronounced Texas fever by Mr. E. T. Hagyard, the Lexington veterinary surgeon.

We are indebted to Maj. D. Coriolanus Crutcher, of White Hall, for recent files of New York, and Philadelphia papers. It was real sweet of him to remember us during his wanderings in the land of the Mugwump.

The police have had a hard time in enforcing an observance of the Sunday law. It is a violation of the law to sell bread on Sunday but no violation to make it.

The city was never more quiet than last Sunday, and the Chief of Police says there were no cases of violation of the Sunday law reported to him. The police certainly must enjoy such a "hard time." The violators of the law seem to have the hardest time, as it is right expensive fun to them, even if they succeed in dodging a fine. Lawyers do not work for nothing.

Henry Penn, a colored man engaged in cleaning out a well on the premises occupied by Mr. Morris Newhouse, on Todd street, Tuesday afternoon, became sick while at the bottom of the well and called to the parties who were assisting him to pull him up. Instead of tying the rope around his body, he simply caught hold of it, and when they had gotten him nearly to the top he was taken with cramp, lost his hold and fell back into the well, a distance of about thirty feet, and was badly injured. Ben Johnson, colored, went down in the well, tied a rope around the injured man, and he was taken out and conveyed to his home on Clinton street, where he is now confined to bed, though not dangerously hurt.

A terrible shooting affair took place in the Fox Creek neighborhood, in Anderson county, Tuesday night, in which J. E. Hawkins was killed and his brother Robert dangerously, if not mortally wounded, by a man named Horace Mullins. Mullins had been visiting the Hawkins' sister, and some trouble growing up between them, the brothers took up the quarrel and notified Mullins to leave the country, which he failed to do, and they went to the house of Mr. John A. McKee, where he was stopping Tuesday night, and demanded that he come out. While they were talking to Mrs. McKee Mullins opened fire upon them from an upper window. J. E. Hawkins was shot in the head and instantly killed, while Robert received a load of buckshot in the face and breast, but it is hoped he will recover. Mullins is still at large.

The Spring Hill Gun Club, of this city, went to Lexington Friday of last week and shot a match with the Lexington Club, and were defeated. Some of the best shots in the club could not leave home, and the boys had been practicing at Peoria black birds, while the targets used were clay pigeons. The Lexington boys are to come down here on Tuesday to shoot a return match, when our boys hope to "put it on 'em." They speak in the highest terms of the Lexington Club, and enjoyed their trip up there very much. Following is the #### SCORE.

Thirty clay pigeons, eighteen yards rise, use of one barrel:

The party who did the funny business for Dr. J. I. Lighthall while here last Spring, has been selling the medicines of that diamond bedecked healer on our streets this week.

The man who was the father of primary elections in Ohio died in a lunatic asylum in that State last week. Now let the man who originated them in this county be taken out and quietly murdered.

One night last week John Brooks and John Williams, two negroes, got into a fight on the bridge across the railroad at Jones Station, in which Brooks cut Williams' hat and coat to pieces with a knife, in the endeavor to stab him, but failing to strike the flesh, drew a pistol and shot him, the ball taking effect just above the left knee. The pistol was aimed at his heart, but Williams knocked it down in time to save himself a mortal wound. Brooks was arrested Tuesday by Deputy Constable Jake Cox, had an examining trial yesterday, and is now in jail awaiting the next term of Circuit Court. A woman was the cause of the trouble.

Editor Roundabout:

The Yeoman of Thursday last contained a communication signed "Democrat," in which the author attempts to criticize the action of the county committee for its disinterestedness in the organization of the party in the coming election.

The committee, individually and collectively, is as much interested in the success of the Democratic nominees as "Democrat." The committee has done, and is still doing, as much as "Democrat," and that, too, without the hope of fee, reward, political preferment, or selfish motives, in the interest of Tate, McKee, Major and N. B. Smith, and at the same time without parading it before the eyes of these candidates.

Is Democrat directly or indirectly interested as to how Major McKee will vote as Senator next winter for Public Printer and Assistant Secretary of the Senate?

The committee, had it a vote, would be for the old Yeoman, which, for forty odd years, has bared its bosom and proudly floated the Democratic banner, and defiantly stood in the fore front of political battle, and the writer, so far as he is informed, believes that the committee is also for "Democrat" for the office of Assistant Secretary of the Senate.

The Democratic committee is in favor of the election of J. O. Hodges, the regular Democratic nominee for the Legislature, in the city of Lexington.

Can Democrat say as much? If "Democrat" is opposed to Hodges it will be but charity to attribute his preference for the Bolter, the avowed and wily enemy of Frankfort, to a pride of kindred nationality, and not to selfish and lucrative motives.

A COMMITTEEMAN.

Bald Knob.

Died, on July 25th, 1885, wife of Mr. Jos. Thurman.

Mr. Geoffrey Rodgers, of Indiana, is visiting relatives here.

Mr. O. B. Polsgrove contemplates building a new veranda in front of his house.

Mr. W. L. Lee is doing a good business with his threshing machine this season.

Wm. Terrell returned home last Friday from a four weeks' vacation in Shelby county.

Doctor Jas. O. Robinson, of Louisville, has located in this village for the purpose of practicing his profession.

The Board of Directors of the Bald Knob and Plum Branch Turnpike met at this place last Saturday and let out the 1 1/2 of a mile of pike between Bald Knob and Sarah Slattery's. It will be commenced in about two weeks.

Caught by an Octopus.

A diver who was trying to find pearls off the Alaska coast, found none, but found himself, all of a sudden, in the grasp of an ugly octopus with arms twenty-seven feet long. Such an experience is rare; but there are thousands of people who are caught by dyspepsia, which is quite as bad. An octopus hates to let go. So does dyspepsia. Brown's Iron Bitters settles dyspepsia, and makes it loose its cruel grip. Mrs. Schmidt and her daughter, of 136 Conway street, Baltimore, were both cured of dyspepsia by the use of Brown's Iron Bitters.

To the Voters of Franklin County.

Primary elections have become so corrupt and demoralizing to the people of this county that I think it time for them to be repudiated. A gentleman is compelled to degrade himself and the voters, in order to secure a nomination. I made a proposition to one of the County Committee, by whom I was approached, to submit my claims to a primary, provided, all legal voters of the county, who were willing to and would bind themselves to support the nominee, should have a right to vote; this plan the gentleman said would not do. I thought and still think my proposition more democratic than the rule adopted by the committee and refused to submit my name. I then determined to make an independent race and submit my election to the people, to be decided by them at the polls on the first Monday in August.

I will adhere to the position I took when I first announced myself as a candidate, not to use money or whisky to aid my election.

I have been accused of being a Republican because I would not submit to the will of oligarchy; in reply, for the benefit of those who are not acquainted with me or my record, I will say: I voted for Harrison, Clay, Taylor, Fillmore, Bell, Seymour, McClelland, Tilden, Hancock, Cleveland and Horace Greely; Mr. Greely was not my choice, my respect for the Democratic party induced me to vote for him.

Now, I appeal to every voter in this county to come to the polls and vote for me on the first Monday in August.

There are plenty of Democrats in this county that know, as I know, how primaries have been managed, to what degradation a man must stoop who hopes to win before them; and to these Democrats I appeal to throw off the shackles, cut loose from the ring and teach our party, if they wish their organization to stand, they must put it upon a clean cut, honest and fair basis. I ask the vote of every candid, honest voter in the county, and if I get it I will be elected by a large majority.

Respectfully,

R. C. STEELE,

Candidate for County Clerk.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds.

Trial bottles of this Great Discovery for Consumption free at Joe. LeCompte's Drug Store, South Side.
